Frank Wisniewski Selected by the CCSNJ to Join the Panel for the Inaugural "State Of" Real Estate Event

Press Release

January 25, 2012
Cherry Hill, NJ

Flaster Greenberg shareholder Frank Wisniewski has been selected by the Chamber of Commerce Southern New Jersey (CCSNJ) to join the region's leading real estate experts at the inaugural "State of" Real Estate event. Panelists will provide attendees with an in-depth look at the state of commercial, industrial and residential real estate markets nationally, regionally and statewide, including the impact on the business community, together with an overview of real estate insurance, development and tax assessments and appeals.

A long-time active member of CCSNJ, Frank Wisniewski concentrates his practice in all aspects of real estate law and litigation. He is a former adjunct professor at Rutgers School of Law – Camden, where he taught a class on "Modern Real Estate Transactions."

The program will take place on Thursday, January 31 at 8 a.m. at the Mansion on Main Street, located at 3000 Main Street in Voorhees, New Jersey. To register for the event, contact the Chamber of Commerce Southern New Jersey at 856.424.7776, or register online at https://www.chambersnj.com.
