
Shareholder Daniel Markind Serves as Panelist at Airports Council International - North America (ACI-NA) Environmental Affairs Committee Meeting

October 15, 2023

Flaster Greenberg Shareholder Daniel Markind recently served as a panelist at the Airports Council International - North America (ACI-NA) Environmental Affairs Committee Meeting where he discussed tax credit and financing programs available to airports that wish to implement renewable energy projects. The ACI-NA's Environmental Affairs Committee is responsible for the development and implementation of ACI-NA environmental policy positions on issues such as noise, air quality, water quality, waste management, wildlife, and environmental review processes.

Panelist from left: Todd Cavender, Director, Environment & Sustainability at Indianapolis Airport Authority; Kevin Staples, Senior Sustainability and Environmental Coordinator, Salt Lake City Department of Airports (SLCDA); Sarah Ziomek, Enterprise Sustainability Program Manager, Dallas Fort Worth International Airport, and Dan Markind.

Dan is the former General Counsel of the Philadelphia International Airport. Currently, he serves as outside general counsel and outside specialty counsel to numerous airports both in the Northeast and across the nation. Additionally, he represents companies that are involved in aviation-related activities.
