

Environmental Law Attorneys to be Speakers at NJ State Bar Event

Press Release

April 16, 2008

Cherry Hill, NJ

Flaster Greenberg attorneys Mitchell H. Kizner , Donna T. Urban and John G. Koch will be among five panelists discussing "New Developments in Environmental Litigation" at a New Jersey State Bar Association (NJSBA) Environmental Law Section program on Thursday, May 8, 2008 at 9 a.m. at the New Jersey Law Center in New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Mitchell Kizner, a shareholder in the Environmental Law, Real Estate and Land Use Practice Groups, is chair of the Litigation Committee of the Environmental Law Section of the NJSBA. Kizner represents clients in environmental and insurance matters as part of his active litigation and commercial law practice.

Donna Urban, a shareholder in the Environmental Law Practice Group, concentrates her practice on environmental regulation and litigation. She handles disputes involving complex environmental litigation in state and federal courts of New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Her experience also includes commercial litigation and contract disputes as well as representing and advising clients in matters concerning compliance with environmental laws and regulations.

John Koch is a member of the Environmental Law and Litigation Practice Group. He concentrates his practice in environmental litigation and regulatory compliance and handles environmental litigation in the state and federal courts of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York. He also counsels clients in matters concerning compliance with state and federal environmental laws and regulations.

The program is open to all members of the Environmental Law Section and invited guests. The fee is $10, which includes registration and continental breakfast. To register by the deadline of May 2, 2008, visit <http://www.njsba.com/> or call the NJSBA Meetings Department at (732) 249-5000.
