

Admitting and Terminating Partners

Changes in the ownership of a practice or other healthcare business can have profound effects on the professional and personal dynamics within the group. We recognize the tension inherent in such transitions and seek to minimize the stress and maximize the benefit to the partners and the business itself. Flaster Greenberg's knowledge of tax, ERISA, estate planning, corporate governance and the healthcare industry are all utilized to construct a practical plan for the transaction which recognizes and addresses each client's unique concerns.
