

Medical Intellectual Property and Technology

Our Intellectual Property and Technology attorneys help facilitate the identification, acquisition, transfer and protection of intellectual property. They also have experience in prosecution of domestic and foreign patent and trademark applications and in the litigation of intellectual property issues in the medical area. Our Intellectual Property attorneys counsel physicians, hospitals, universities and other medical clients regarding medical devices, surgical procedures, treatment methods, pharmaceuticals and other medical products and inventions. Our Corporate, Healthcare and Litigation attorneys work closely with our Intellectual Property attorneys in handling acquisitions involving medical and pharmaceutical technology, in strategic planning for litigation avoidance and to enforce and defend claims involving intellectual property when circumstances give rise to litigation.

Attorneys

Thomas J. Durling
Aaron R. Ettelman
Alma L. Saravia