

What Realtors Need to Know About the Consumer Protection Enhancement Act

---

October 2, 2024

Description:

When Governor Murphy signed the NJ Consumer Protection Enhancement Act into law in July 2024 to protect consumers engaging in residential real estate transactions, it left South Jersey realtors with many questions about how to follow this new law. In this session, Jennifer Johnson, South Jersey real estate and land use attorney, reviews the six key takeaways from the Act and engages in an interactive Q&A discussion with South Jersey realtors to ensure they understand how the act affects buyers, sellers, and buyers and sellers agents.
