

NAHB LANDS Roundtable and Workshop

April 5-6, 2013

National Association of Home Builders

Don't miss a great opportunity to earn CLE and Ethics! CLE credit can be pursued for most states.

This year's roundtable will feature a robust educational experience specifically designed to facilitate discussion and development of litigation experiences and strategies. This year's topics include:

- Redevelopment & Infill — Sea Change
- Use of Technology in Land Use Hearings
- Penn Central at Quarter Century Mark
- New Jersey's Regulatory Waiver Program
- Ethics
- And much more!

LANDS is sure to be one of the best educational events and networking opportunities you'll attend this year!

Who Should Attend:

- Attorneys active in representing:
 - Builders
 - Property owners
 - Home building associations
- Attorneys who dedicate a substantial portion (greater than 50%) of their practice to land use and environmental issues are also welcome.

Location:

George Mason University
Founders Hall
3351 Fairfax Drive
Arlington, VA
