27th Annual GSC-SHRM Conference

October 15, 2018
Garden State Council-SHRM

Speaker: Adam Gersh

When: Monday, October 15, 2018, 9:45 am to 10:45 am

Conquering the challenges of managing a mixed workforce of union and non-union employees

Navigating the legal divide between union and non-union employees while maintaining unity and strong employee relations presents a unique challenge. Attendees will learn how to navigate legal landmines that can create liability for an organization and strategies for best practices. This session will include both legal and practice tips to help attendees find a balanced approach that will limit risk and allow for best practices in management. It will also focus on maintaining a union-free environment for positions that are not currently part of a union.

Annual Conference

GSC-SHRM 27th Annual Conference & Expo

October 14th - 16th 2018 | Atlantic City Convention Center

This year's GSC-SHRM Conference & Expo, scheduled for October 14-16, 2018, marks the 27th anniversary of this important event. We continue to provide excellent educational and networking opportunities for the HR professionals in the Garden State.

Our programming for the Conference & Expo will include over 60 concurrent sessions and six mega sessions, along with three outstanding keynote speakers. On Sunday, Devon Harris will encourage attendees to keep pushing, even in the face of adversity. On Monday, Lou Lessig, one of the top-rated speakers each year, will discuss The Influence of You. On Tuesday, Melissa Stockwell will talk about her incredible experiences as a decorated soldier and a bronze medalist from the 2016 Rio Paralympics. As always, integrated throughout our event will be the opportunity to visit with more than 60 conference partners, exhibitors & sponsors who offer valuable services that can ease the challenges you face on a daily basis.

This year, our charity of choice is the SHRM Foundation. The SHRM Foundation advances global human capital knowledge and practice by providing thought leadership and educational support and by sponsoring, funding and driving the adoption of cutting-edge, actionable, evidence-based research.
