

Second Annual Flaster Greenberg Scholarship Presented to Temple Law School JD Candidate

Press Release

May 19, 2022

Flaster Greenberg is proud to partner with the Temple University James E. Beasley, School of Law in their commitment to support diversity in the legal practice, where we had the honor of presenting our law firm's second annual scholarship to a deserving JD Candidate. Pictured here is FG Patent Attorney, Aakash Patel, and JD Candidate and Flaster Greenberg Scholarship recipient, Clayton Ewell, at a luncheon honoring multicultural students.

Our firm's program scholarships are designed to assist deserving students with direct or indirect costs of attending law school and to help lessen the financial burden of earning their Juris Doctorate so the student can focus more on their education and worry less about how they might pay off their debt.
