

Three Flaster Greenberg Attorneys Named to South Jersey Magazine's Annual Attorney List

Press Release

January 2, 2025

Each year South Jersey Magazine's January issue includes a list of local attorneys who are ready to assist clients with their needs.

When faced with a tough legal situation, be it a financial matter, a family dispute or perhaps a business transaction, finding the right attorney for the job is crucial. That is why each year South Jersey Magazine asks the region's law firms and their readers to identify and nominate those professionals known for producing results while prioritizing their clients' best interests. This year's list reflects those attorneys who were recognized for their efforts across dozens of practice areas.

The list is meant to provide useful information to supplement what you learn from other sources. The following Flaster Greenberg attorneys were included on the list:
