Real Estate Attorney Peter Chacanias Quoted in NJBIZ Article about Construction & Development Panel

Press Release

May 4, 2026

Peter Chacanias, counsel in Flaster Greenbergs Real Estate and Land Use Group, recently participated in NJBIZs Construction & Development Panel, where industry leaders examined the mounting challenges shaping New Jerseys building landscape. The discussion highlighted rising costs, labor shortages, regulatory hurdles, and aging infrastructure as key constraints on development across the state.

Chacanias was also featured in NJBIZs coverage, emphasizing the complexities surrounding infrastructure readiness. As he noted, Even in spots where the infrastructure exists, its incredibly dated in a lot of places in New Jersey, raising critical questions about whether existing systems can support modern demands such as data centers and advanced industrial uses. His insights underscore the pressing need for strategic investment and modernization to sustain growth in New Jerseys construction sector.
