

Free Seminar on Ambulatory Surgical Centers in Private Practices at Flaster Greenberg

Press Release

December 12, 2006

Cherry Hill, NJ

A free seminar for physicians titled "Does an Ambulatory Surgical Center Make Sense for my Practice?" will be presented on Wednesday, January 17, 2007, 5:30 to 7 p.m., followed by a wine tasting and dinner reception from 7 to 8 p.m. in Flaster Greenberg's Conference Center, located at 1810 Chapel Avenue West in Cherry Hill, NJ. Registration begins at 5 p.m.

Flaster Greenberg attorney Stephen M. Greenberg and Richard Wagar, M.B.A., President, Surgery Center Management Services, Inc. (SCMS) will discuss the value of ambulatory surgical centers in private practices. Greenberg concentrates his practice in healthcare, tax and corporate legal services with particular expertise in the healthcare industry. Wagar founded SCMS which implements and manages Ambulatory Surgery Centers (ASC) and heads a consulting group, Ambulatory Surgery Development Group, a consortium of independent professionals that provide services for implementing ASC projects.

ATTORNEYS MENTIONED

Stephen Greenberg