

Flaster Greenberg's Mitchell Cohen Speaks at the 2011 Solar Power International Conference KOTRA EVENT

Press Release

November 3, 2011

Cherry Hill, NJ

Mitchell Cohen, shareholder with Flaster Greenberg PC, recently spoke at the KOTRA PRESENTATION EVENT at the 2011 Solar Power International Conference, an annual solar business-to-business event that was held at the Dallas Convention Center in Dallas, Texas, October 17-20th.

The segment was titled "Solar Energy Development & Investment "and addressed topics that dealt with solar energy development and investment in the United States. Cohen focused on identifying specific profits and returns, project types, geographical considerations, when to invest, what works and development and investment success stories.

Cohen practices in the Business & Corporate and Real Estate & Land Use Practice Groups and is chair of the Alternative and Renewable Energy Industry Group. He represents clients engaged in business ventures in emerging green energy fields such as solar, wind, geothermal, cogeneration, biofuels and biomass. His clients include solar and other alternative energy developers, EPC contractors, energy consultants and alternative energy funding sources.