On January 20, 2012, Flaster Greenberg shareholder Steven D. Usdin was featured on Law360.com for his recent transition from Cohen Seglias Pallas Greenhall & Furman. Usdin said he “was wooed by Flaster Greenberg’s expansive bankruptcy practice” and that he “hopes his expertise would increase the number of Chapter 7 and Chapter 11 commercial cases Flaster Greenberg tackles.”

Usdin is part of the firm’s Bankruptcy, Financial Restructuring and Risk Management Group and focuses his practice on commercial and personal bankruptcy, general corporate and transactional matters and commercial litigation. With more than 30 years experience in the legal services industry, he has appeared on behalf of debtors, creditors and equity security holders’ committees, and secured creditors in a variety of proceedings at the Trial and Appellate levels in State and Federal Courts.
