
Steve Sacharow to Speak at NJICLE's 2016 Family Law Symposium

Press Release

January 22, 2016

Flaster Greenberg shareholder and family law attorney Steven B. Sacharow has been tapped by the New Jersey Institute of Continuing Legal Education (NJICLE) to participate as a panelist at the 2016 Family Law Symposium on January 30th. New Jersey's leading family law experts will take you "beyond the basics" with thought-provoking and insightful presentations examining many of today's cutting edge- issues as well as "outside of the box" problems you are likely to confront. Sacharow will be participating in a panel on the "Future of Arbitration in Family Part Matters."

Sacharow's representation of clients includes matters involving child custody, parenting time, child support, alimony and equitable distribution of assets. It also consists of legal aspects of relationship formation including cohabitation and prenuptial agreements. His family law practice further includes representation of individuals involved in same sex relationships, including cohabitation agreements and dissolution of relationships, involving both civil unions and non-formalized relationships, as well as mediation (as a mediator and representing clients in mediation) and collaborative divorce. Additionally, his adoption practice is comprised of domestic and interstate adoptions, agency or private, and he has extensive experience in the litigation of contested adoption matters.

The 2016 Family Law Symposium seminar will take place on Saturday, January 30th from 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. at the Hyatt Regency in New Brunswick, NJ and has been approved for CLE credits. For more information, or to register, click here.
