Flaster Greenberg's Taxation Department was named South Jersey Biz 2022 Reader's Pick for Best in Biz Law Firm – Taxation Category. According to the publication, the list showcases a wide-ranging selection of companies and organizations that value personal connections, individually tailored service, and the kind of results that prove they're dedicated to not only their craft but also their clients.

At Flaster Greenberg we take seriously the desire of our clients to legitimately minimize their taxes. Founded more than 45 years ago as a "tax boutique," today federal and state taxation continues to be an important focus in our firm. Whether this means counseling a large corporate client as to the intricacies of a tax-free reorganization, a real estate developer or investor as to the means of achieving capital gain rather than ordinary income tax treatment, or an individual seeking to preserve wealth for his or her children and grandchildren, the skills and experience of our attorneys as tax advisors is a valuable and pragmatic resource for our clients.
